Officers Killed By Evans and Sontag.

RIDDLED WITH SHOT

Overtaken at Sampson Flat.

FRED WITTY WOUNDED IN THE NECK

Constable Hill's Horse Killed Under Him.

United States Marshal Wilson, Deputy Marshal McGinnis and C. Olsen Dead — Will Smith, Trailer Burke and Two Apache Scouts Escape—Sheriff Hensley and Posse on the Trail.

Below will be found a full and graphic account of the bloody encounter at Sampson Flat yesterday between Sontag and Evans, the train robbers, and a posse, in which three of the latter were killed and one wounded. Immediately upon the confirmation of this report yesterday THE REPUBLICAN sent a special correspondent to the mountains with the result that it is able to give its readers the exact and interesting account following.

Chris Evans and John Sontag, the desperate train robbers, have added four murders to their list of crimes.

Word was received at the sheriff's office yesterday that the robbers and the posse following them had an encounter at Sampson Flat and that in the exchange of shots ensuing four of the posse fell mortally wounded and one severely wounded.

The posse consisted of Vic Wilson, United States Marshal at Tucson; Frank Burke, Deputy sheriff at Yuma; Deputy United States Marshal McGinnis, a man named Olsen, Warren Hill the Sanger constable; Detective Will Smith, Fred Witty and two Apache scouts.

Those killed are Marshal Wilson, Deputy Sheriff Burke, Deputy Marshal McGinnis and Olsen. Fred Witty, brother of George Witty, who was wounded in an encounter with the robbers at Visalia some weeks ago, received a severe wound in the neck.

The particulars of the deadly meeting had to be obtained by way of Sanger, to which point they were telephoned from the mountain terminus of Smith & Moore's flume by Constable Warren Hill, who hurried there immediately after the shooting.

A FIERCE FIGHT.

The encounter took place at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in front of Young's house at Sampson Flat and was one of the fiercest of the kind that has ever taken place in this county.

The posse is the one that set out from Visalia a few days ago, and had tracked the robbers to Dunlap and thence to Sampson Flat. The officers knew they were on a hot trail, but were not expecting to run into Evans and Sontag so soon.

At the hour stated yesterday morning the posse were going up a path that passed by Young's house, the two Apaches being a little in advance. As they arrived almost opposite Young's house, at a distance of thirty yards from it, the door of the house was suddenly opened by Evans, who appeared on the sill, with Sontag at his side.

The robbers fired with deadly effect, two of the posse falling into each other's arms mortally wounded. So great was the surprise of the officers that before they could recover from it the desperate robbers had fired another volley into them, bringing down two more men.

COOL ROBBERS.

The robbers pumped the death-dealing lead from their shotguns with coolness and dispatch and had the officers at their mercy. Those who had escaped the first two volleys of the robbers returned fire. They were at such a disadvantage, however, that they could make no effectual resistance, much less attack the robbers, who could easily put the walls of the house between them and the remainder of the posse.

Another man fell under the murderous fire of the robbers, and those of the officers who still had a whole skin left sought a place that would protect them from the unerring aim of the desperadoes. The horse of Constable Hill was also shot from under him and killed.

Seeing the thorough demoralization of the posse Evans and Sontag left the house and made for the brush near by, taking a northeasterly course. As they were walking rapidly away the officers fired at them, but it is not believed with any effect.

THE KILLED.

After the robbers' departure Smith, Hill and the two Apaches gave their attention to their dead and wounded comrades, whom they took into the Young house. It could not be ascertained here whether they had been killed on the instant or not. Witty had a very severe wound in the neck and suffered much.

Detective Smith told Constable Hill to go to the flume company's office, some six miles distant, and telephone the news to Fresno, while he and the Indians watched the dead men and Witty. Hill had to walk the entire distance and finally sent the terrible tale over the wires to Sanger, whence it was telephoned to this city.

The news was received here shortly after 2:30 o'clock and when it became generally known caused the utmost excitement. Many could not at first credit the story, so horrible did it seem; but when it was confirmed by subsequent messages, they stood aghast at the bloodthirstiness of the robbers.

HENSLEY AFTER THEM.

In the sheriff's office all was astir and Sheriff Hensley was preparing to leave with a posse for the scene of the encounter shortly after the news arrived. He took with him Deputies Ed McCardle and W. J. Pickett and Constable J. G. Ashman. They went to Dunlap, where Constable Hill told them he would meet them and from there they will go on to Sampson Flat and into the mountains in pursuit of the desperadoes.

Under Sheriff Collyer was busy all afternoon sending telegrams to the sheriffs of adjoining counties. Sheriff Kay of Tulare was notified and will probably take care that the robbers do not get away by the south trail. Posses in the counties north of this one will take care to head them off in that direction.

Owing to a misunderstanding it was first believed that the Witty who had been wounded was the sheriff's deputy at Visalia, who had a very unpleasant experience with the robbers near that place shortly after they committed the Rolinda train robbery. It proves, however, to be Fred Witty, a brother of George Witty, the deputy.

FOUR VICTIMS.

The early report stated that four men had been killed—McGinnis, Wilson, Olsen, and an unknown. Then arrived another, reducing the number to three. Later advices, however, substantiate the first report, making Burke the fourth victim of the robbers' murderous marksmanship.

Sampson Flat, where the encounter occurred, has a deservedly bad reputation. It is a rendezvous for outlaws of all kinds and particularly of cattle thieves. The notorious Pate and Bennett gang of horse thieves made this their headquarters.

AIDED BY FRIENDS.

Evans and Sontag have their mine there and are thoroughly acquainted with every nook and corner in that locality. They are on excellent terms with the hard characters living there and received every assistance from them in eluding their pursuers. In view of this it is not surprising to hear that it is the intention of Detective Smith and Constable Hill to arrest four men there whom they suspect of being Evans and Sontag's accomplices.

Judging from the report of the encounter, it is evident the robbers were informed of the nearness of the posse by some friend or friends and determined to take the aggressive as the best way of disposing of their troublesome pursuers.

The Apache scouts seem to be excellent trailers and knowing this, the robbers probably believed there was no likelihood of their losing the trail. Their only salvation, therefore, was in surprising their pursuers and this they did in a terribly effective way. To permit themselves to have been surrounded would have resulted either in their capture or death.

POSSE IN PURSUIT.

The officials of both Tulare and Fresno counties are thoroughly aroused, and it is hardly likely that they will leave off the pursuit until they have captured or killed the robbers. The opinion is general that the officials should lay aside all idea of effecting a capture, but enter upon the chase with the intention of killing the bloodthirsty desperadoes and thus end their career of butchery.

A telegram was received here shortly after the report of the encounter had been sent to Visalia from Deputy Sheriff Witty of that place, asking if his wounded brother had been brought to this city. It is not known yet where the bodies of the dead men and Witty will be taken, but it is probable either to Sanger or Visalia.

Coroner L. O. Stephens and Dr. J. L. Maupin left last evening about 6 o'clock for Dunlap, to meet those who are bringing the dead officers from the mountains.

OBSTACLES TO THEIR CAPTURE.

There is great excitement among the ranchers in the foothills and many of them will no doubt join in the chase after the train robbers. Those who know the country and the friendly feeling between the robbers and the Sampson Flat people are not very hopeful of an early capture. There is no doubt, however, that if the officials persist they must soon have the robbers in their power.

HONEST IN SOME THINGS.

The robbers were heard from in this city last Sunday, when information was brought to the sheriff's office that they were camping near Dunlap. From other sources it was learned that they spent Sunday evening at the house of a man named Howell, who is said to be a relative of Evans. Howell's place is not far from Sampson Flat.

The robbers are reported to have had the horse and cart which they took from Supervisor Ellis of Tulare county a few days ago. They left them with Howell, asking him to return them to Ellis and to thank him in their name for their use. Evans also sent word that he intended to kill the man that shot through his house.

WHERE THEY GOT PROVISIONS.

The camp near Dunlap they had abandoned was discovered the same day that they were at Howell's. A large quantity of provisions was found and a number of newspapers of a recent date.

Detective Smith says he has ascertained who the parties are who have been supplying Evans and Sontag with provisions, thus enabling them to keep out of sight.

GUARDING THE JAIL.

Knowing the desperate character of the train robbers the officials at the jail have been keeping a sharp lookout in the event of an attempt being made to rescue George Sontag. The finding of the flies in the water closet about a week ago, an account of which was given in THE REPUBLICAN, decided the sheriff to be more careful than ever and there is reason to believe that the paths leading to the jail were guarded by several squads of men hidden in advantageous places. From such daring and murderous men as Sontag and Evans almost anything might be expected and the precautions of the sheriff are wise.

Special to The Republican.

VISALIA, September 13.—On receipt of the shooting at Young's today your correspondent got a team and started for the scene, about twenty-five miles out on Nigger creek, and met a posse returning home with the bodies of Vic Wilson and McGinnis, and the following is a part of the last posse's story.

On the 10th instant they found a trail at Sampson's Flat, 300 yards from Clark Moore's house, and followed it to Crabtree's house near the flume on Kings river.

Crabtree had not seen them, as he had just returned from the flume.

Will Smith was very much astonished to see Clark Moore house 10 minutes later, as Smith's posse passed Moore the day before twenty-five miles away on the way to Visalia with a one-horse rig. He next saw him at 11 a.m. at Crabtree's.

WALK INTO CRABTREE'S

The following morning the Indians back-tracked Moore into Evans and Sontag's camp, two miles east of Crabtree's, on the creek. The camp consisted of a tent about eight feet square in which was bedding and copies of THE FRESNO REPUBLICAN and Visalia Delta, with accounts of the several pursuits.

The camp commanded a full view of the trail and was situated in the brush so that it could not be seen from the trail.

From there the Indians trailed them to Sampson's Flat. On arriving at Coffee's house the posse was surprised at finding Clark Moore there. He was last seen at Crabtree's. He hailed Will Smith, who was in the lead, with

"COME ON, MR. SMITH, NO DANGER HERE."

The posse searched the house and found that Evans and Sontag had left.

The posse then upbraided Moore for giving information of the posse's movements, and while he would not deny that he was at Evans and Sontag's camp, he would not answer for certain.

He said Evans would not say why he (Evans) was so vindictive against Smith.

Coffee said he had just returned from the Dunlap posse for the mail, which Moore corroborated.

The posse leaving Moore at Coffee's house rode to John Howell's near Dunlap, at which place Evans and Sontag

When Howell was asked if he had news from the outlaws lately, he said "no," and after resting half an hour left.

Smith learned on reaching Dunlap that Mrs. Evans and a young man named Henry Hunt of Selma, who is a distant relative of Evans, were at Howells.

Mrs. Evans has been at several points between Visalia and Howells, and made herself known as Mrs. Hunter.

That night about 10 the posse was taken two miles in Howell's lumber wagon, expecting Evans to meet his wife at Howell's.

After getting out of the wagon they

in the direction of Dunlap's, which was construed as a signal to Evans that the coast was not clear.

The posse kept watch at Howell's all night.

In the morning, in an interview held with Mrs. Evans alias Hunter, she would not state the object of her visit, and Hunt pleaded ignorance.

Mrs. Evans told Smith she did not know why Evans wanted to kill him unless it was because he was in the employ of the Southern Pacific, as Evans and Sontag got hurt on the Southern Pacific trains, and for the same. She also said it was knowing that the men would be captured or killed, she could say that several of the officers would be killed also. That Evans had been accused unjustly of committing the train robbery.

She was very bitter against Smith for the way he tore up her house while looking for Evans or evidence.

This morning, September 13th, a posse rode to Young's house with the intention of leaving word for John Broder, a member of the posse.

McGinnis and Wilson dismounted and walked towards the house.

In the rear was Al Witty and Frank Burke.

Smith was in the act of dismounting

WHEN THE SHOOTING BEGAN.

The horse, being a bronco, began to pitch and bank, and Smith half fell underneath trying to get back in the saddle. The horse threw him.

Smith was looking toward the house and saw Wilson falling across McGinnis' body, about twenty yards from the house. Smith ran behind a tree while Evans was shooting at him.

Smith saw Evans and Sontag standing

The result shows me that the leading Democratic speakers on the tariff are in error as to the effect of the McKinley bill. The figures in my report speak for themselves and there is no getting away from them.—Labor Commissioner Peck, Democrat.

EVANS and Sontag are still "free" companions.

IF a company of Pinkerton's "hired fighters" were available there would probably be no objection to sending them up to Sampson Flats.

THE terms of reward for capturing Evans and Sontag should be changed to "dead or alive." The sum of $10,000 is no longer an inducement for the delivery of these obstinate parties into the custody of the officers.

THE track at the fair grounds, under the direction of Manager J. B. King, has been put in a condition that insures a maximum of speed in all entries. It is springy, level and swift, and will see some great heats in the annual fair.

IT is not at all impossible that Mr. Cleveland's letter has been delayed by the publication of the Peck report. Perhaps Mr. Peck's figures have compelled a wholesale revision of some of Candidate Cleveland's great thoughts.

SENATOR MOFFITT of the Oakland Times strongly indorses the candidacy of Walter S. Moore of Los Angeles, who has been nominated for state senator by the Republicans of that district. If the colonel can now get the endorsement of Senator Goucher and a few other prominent Democrats who know how state senatoring is done, he ought to run like a scared detective.

THE most interesting event of the campaign will be the joint debate between Stephen M. White of Los Angeles and Morris M. Estee of Napa, which will occur in this city on the evening of October 10th. These gentlemen are both able speakers, and the people will hear the tariff issue discussed in a manner that cannot fail to instruct as well as entertain them. There are to be no parades, fireworks, or other demonstrations of the usual political kind, but the intelligence of the voters will be appealed to. It will be a feast of reason—a regular intellectual barbecue.

IT a mistake has been made in the matter of re-registration in this county, the responsibility does not lie with the board of supervisors, as the Expositor claims, but with the county clerk. The board cancelled the old register and ordered that a re-registration of voters of Fresno county be made in conformity with the provisions of section 1094 of the Political Code of the state. This section provides that re-registration must begin 100 days before election and stop 65 days thereafter. The order of the supervisors was all right. It remains to be seen whether a serious and expensive blunder has been made by the county clerk.

WILL TURN THE CURRENT

The Bulletin suggests that the European cholera epidemic will cut off from the old world countries the vast stream of tourist travel from the United States during next season. This will doubtless be the case, and as the people of this country are becoming a nation of travelers, the tide will naturally turn in another direction. As they cannot with safety and comfort make the usual pilgrimage to Europe a considerable proportion of the money they have and earn there in former seasons they will probably spend next year in western tourist expeditions. Probably nine-tenths of these tourists have never been west of Chicago. They have never seen the Yellowstone, the Yosemite valley and the Big Trees. They have never seen the snow-capped crests of the Sierra, nor the blue waters of the Pacific, nor the vineyards and orange groves of California. Hardly one in 10,000 has ever seen the wonders of Alaska with its glaciers, its "enchanted isles" and its great archipelago. The area of the Pacific states, including the territories of Alaska, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, embracing 1,500,000 square miles, equal, if reckoned in this division, to the remaining area of the country.

"Here is room for the entire population of the United States to be gathered in; every man sitting under his own vine, and every woman under her own orange tree, with every hot head in the country cooling off on his own quarter section in Alaska." If these statements were made by Californians they might be taken as exaggerated for effect. They are the cool statements of a brilliant Boston lecturer before a Young Men's Christian Union. "Little Massachusetts could turn around 185 times in this lassitude's realm." This vast territory west of the Rocky mountains is new to the European tourist. For the majority of these it is an undiscovered land.

Now, if these currents of travel should be reversed for a year or two it would be a good thing for these 100,000 or more of tourists and a good thing for the country. They have learned all about the Swiss Alps and the lakes, rivers and cities of Europe. But they know nothing of the grand scenery of the Sierras, its lakes, the valleys that lie between the mountains and the sea, the wonders of Yosemite and the Yellowstone, and the great archipelago of the north reaching up to the great glaciers that are sliding down to the sea. These are the new resources of the tourist. They will be now when 100,000 have seen them. For the drift once turned in this direction, it will become stronger every year. That is the prospective good that may result from the epidemic which will turn so many thousands of tourists away from Europe.

INDIANA HEARD FROM.

Upon the heels of Labor Commissioner Peck's report, comes the announcement that Mr. Peele, the chief of the Indiana bureau of statistics, has issued a report on wages and industrial production which shows that there has been a marked increase in the pay of factory employes in the principal manufacturing centers of Indiana. Mr. Peele, like Mr. Peck, is a strong Democrat, but evidently does not consider that it is a part of his official duties to distort and represent figures in the interest of the calamity faction and the free trade doctrines of the Mugwumps and the late southern confederacy. The rampant Mugwumps will undoubtedly transfer a share of their attentions to Mr. Peele. He may expect to be denounced as wildly and bitterly by the frantic free trade worshipers as Commissioner Peck has been.

The Mugwumps will in all likelihood try to make people believe that Commissioner Peele's report was directly inspired if not actually written by Senator Hill. They will have about as great a chance of success as they have had in their ridiculous endeavor to cast on Hill's shoulders the responsibility for the report of Mr. Peck, who is one of Grover Cleveland's own appointees and who began the investigation on which his report is based in 1890, long before it was known that Mr. Cleveland would be the nominee of his party.

Not Surprised That Way.

Lord Shadyvow—Of course I can never be very intimate with your father, he being in trade, but he will not be surprised to find me with some insular prejudices, will he?

Miss Manhattan—Oh, no. Nothing foolish or ill bred that you can do will surprise him.—Life.

It Happened This Way.

Last week many ladies complained of not getting some of Wiener's big bargains. Why? Because they did not read his big ad. Don't get left this week.

CONSTIPATION.

Afflicts half the American people yet there is only one preparation of Sarsaparilla that acts on the bowels and reaches this important trouble, and that is Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. It relieves it in 24 hours, and an occasional dose prevents return. We refer, by permission, to C. E. Elkington, 125 Locust Avenue, San Francisco; J. H. Brown, Petaluma, Cal.; H. S. Winn, Geary Court, S.F., and hundreds of others who have used it in constipation. One letter is a sample of hundreds. Elkington, writes: "I have been for years subject to bilious headaches and constipation. Have been so bad for a year back have had to take a physic every other night or else I would have a headache. One bottle of J. V. S. put me in splendid shape. It positively controls constipation."

JOY'S Vegetable Sarsaparilla

As J. V. S. is positively the only Sarsaparilla compounded to control constipation, insist on Joy's and don't be talked into taking any other.

THOMAS V. CATOR.

A Very Ingenious People's Party Speech.

HARD KNOCKS AT CLEVELAND

Denounced as the Creature of Wall Street and the Foe of the Poor Man.

There was quite a respectable gathering of old time Democrats last night in front of the Grand Central hotel to hear the address of Thomas V. Cator of San Francisco on behalf of the principles of the People's Party.

Captain J. G. Dawes made the opening speech. He began by saying that this government will be what the producing classes of the people decide it shall be. They can decide whether it shall be a government of the people or a government of the plutocrats. He paid a high compliment to the ability of Thomas V. Cator of San Francisco, whom he then introduced as the speaker of the evening.

One of the great evils that now afflict this country is the enormous debt—national, state, county and municipal—amounting to $25,000,000,000, on which interest is being paid at rates ranging from 0 to 25 per cent. Another evil was the concentration of the wealth of the country into fewer hands every year.

It is no false alarm to say that the people are called upon to face a condition graver than any that has prevailed for several hundred years past.

It is said by some that this vast aggregation of millions in single hands is the result of industry and thrift. Can this be true when there are honest, industrious and thrifty men who have not been able after a lifetime of toil to place themselves beyond the fear of want? Is it thrift and superior energy that have enabled the Astors to accumulate $400,000,000 of property in New York city, with an income that in a few years would enable them to own the entire city of New York? Is it thrift when for three generations not one of that family has lifted a finger in honest toil or shed one drop of sweat in honest labor?

The speaker said that there was no difference between the Republican and Democratic parties on the question of the tariff. The Democrats are not in favor of free trade but propose to spend as much money as the Republicans and to raise it by taxing imports.

A Republican congressional committee reported that the duties ought to be diminished and the Mills bill brought down the duties from 47 to 42 per cent, or a reduction of 5 per cent, and that is all the Democratic party proposed to reduce the tariff, notwithstanding all their clamor against it.

The sentence "We believe in a tariff for revenue only" originated in the Democratic platform of 1876, when Tilden was nominated. This phrase can never be defined; it means nothing, and under it any kind of a tariff can be levied. In Minnesota the Republican candidate for governor is Newton Nelson, a pronounced free trader, who bolted our Republican caucus and refused to vote for the McKinley bill, and bolted another Republican caucus and voted for the Mills bill. In San Francisco the Democrats have nominated Judge Maguire, a rampant free trader and an advocate of the confiscation of the rental value of land.

The Democrats have been talking just as we do, about the concentration of wealth into the hands of the few, and they promise to remedy it by a readjustment of the tariff. [Laughter.]

In Germany and England as well as in the United States wealth is accumulating in the hands of the few and this fact does away with the Democratic pretense that the tariff has anything to do with this evil.

What we want is protection against those who have wrecked railroads at midnight and watered stock in order that more wealth might be squeezed from the sweat of the producers.

The currency has been contracted by the machinations of the gold monopolists in the demonetization of silver. Silver was demonetized in 1873, after having been coined free from the beginning of the republic. There is more gold than silver today in the proportion of 16 to 1 to the amount of $1,370,000,000. At the time of demonetization there was a premium on the silver dollar because it contained more than a dollars worth of silver. Today in the world there is one ounce of gold for every 14.56 ounces of silver and that should be the scientific ratio between the metals.

The demonetization of silver was accomplished by an English envoy who brought $5,000,000 from England to America to corrupt congress, and he found that congress had been so often debauched by railroad and other corporations that he was able to buy them for $500,000 and he took $4,500,000 home. The bill was in his handwriting and it was passed by congress and approved by President Grant.

The price of wheat has fallen exactly in proportion to the price of silver.

The speaker drew a contrast between the condition of the producing classes at the present time and of that before the currency was contracted. He laid the blame of all this evil at the door of the Democratic and Republican parties which, he said, were conducted in the interest of the plutocracy.

During all the time that Cleveland was President he worked for the interest of Wall street against the remonetization of silver and he worked against the interest of the Democratic masses and in the interest of the gold bugs.

The speaker charged that Cleveland was nominated through the influence of the Wall street gold bugs and that Bisino was defeated for the nomination through the same influence.

The Nicaragua canal scheme was denounced as an attempt to place that important avenue of commerce into the hands of the transportation companies with a directory of eight representatives of the private corporation and seven of the government.

Cleveland was never the friend of the laboring man. He vetoed the bill which would allow the working people of New York the privilege of riding on the elevated cars for 5 cents and he also vetoed the bill which was designed to cut down the hours of street car drivers from sixteen to twelve hours per day.

Only three months ago the South Carolina Democratic convention passed resolutions declaring Cleveland to be the tool of Wall street and demanding that the national convention should not nominate him for the Presidency.

So all over the south they have felt the steel of the knife of the plutocracy in their vitals and they have been flocking to the standard of the Alliance.

The transportation plank, the government ownership of railroads, was briefly dwelt upon with the statement that there was no income that a railroad corporation would demand that a court would not give to it.

Mr. Cator is a clever speaker, and was attentively listened to and frequently applauded.

Couldn't Find a Policeman.

A man who was chased with a knife by a stranger on Front street, about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, called at THE REPUBLICAN office to complain that although he went up Mariposa street and down J street as far as the postoffice he could not find a single policeman.

"THE ENSIGN."

How it Affected a Fresno Audience.

From mountain, city and sea the multitude have returned, and brought with them the glow of health and the tan of sun. Last night's performance at the Barton brought them forth, for the house was absolutely packed.

There arose from the long sought harmony of the orchestra a sigh of contentment which seemed to be reflected in the faces of all.

How much music can do towards harmonizing a throng, if it be music!

The selections given by the Barton orchestra were suitably chosen and well rendered, proving Mr. Reitz's capability as a leader.

Heretofore, except on rare occasions, the music has been looked upon as a necessary evil, just to drown the hammering behind the curtain between acts; but should the season continue with tonight's manner of opening, it will prove an unexpected delight.

The first act would have been a trifle monotonous, were it not for the little child "MARY," scarcely more than a babe, whose voice was so admirably modulated as to reach the ear of the entire audience, without losing its childish sweetness.

Ensign Ben Baird, as personated by James Neill, was the hero around which the plot centered and very handsome he looked. His lovemaking was a trifle overdrawn, in other words, too little was left for the imagination, but what his words failed to effect the electric flashes of eyes and teeth succeeded in accomplishing.

Quickswain Jack Dudley, B. R. Graham, won the sympathy of the audience as well as their approval of his wit.

Logan Paul looked Abe Lincoln to the life.

The same intelligent, homely face, the genial smile, and the tall, rather lank figure made up a strong resemblance to the martyred President. Miss Ruth Carpenter as Miss Alice Greer, the hero's sweetheart, was fair of face, and the possessor of a lovely figure. Graceful also, but seemingly awkward as to the disposition of her hands.

Lieutenant Allen of her majesty's service used such perfect English as one reads of, but seldom hears. His pronunciation of the latter "a" through its many shades should be phonographed and the echo preserved for the benefit of our western posterity.

The scene between the President and little Mary, where she offers her dear old broken doll to the great man as a bribe toward granting a pardon to her beloved Ensign was very effectively given in tableaux.

"The Ensign" was well received and worthy of the reception.

CANDID CATARINA.

HELD NOR BURGLARY.

E. H. Dewey's Testimony Was Not Believed in Court.

E. H. Dewey was held to answer a charge of burglary yesterday by Justice of the Peace Prince with bonds fixed at $1000.

The testimony showed that the defendant was working on a ranch for James M. Barclay and that immediately after the defendant left Mr. Barclay missed $40 in gold that with the usual providence of ranchers he had placed in his pants pocket and hung the pants on a hook for the birds of the air to peck at.

J. J. Truman, a merchant of Caruthers, testified that on the evening of the day on which the money was taken he received $20 from Dewey to pay for some oysters.

Dewey testified that a man at Caruthers had paid him some money that he had borrowed from Dewey two years ago.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Interesting Meeting of the Commission Yesterday.

PREMIUMS FOR FINE RAISINS

A Business-Like Proposition to Get the Best Exhibit Obtainable.

A Mineral Proposition.

The World's Fair commission held a regular meeting in their office in the Hughes hotel building yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas E. Hughes and Miss Kate Parsons, representing the Ladies' World's Fair association, were present and appeared to take a lively interest in the proceedings.

A letter was read from Thomas H. Thompson, dated September 7th, setting forth that it is very desirable that the several exhibits throughout the state should be prepared as nearly as possible in duplicate, so that aside from the state exhibit in the state building there may be others in the several department buildings for competition.

W. M. Williams, of the finance committee, moved that the finance committee be discharged and that all bills hereafter presented be considered and acted upon by the commission as a whole, and that all bills passed upon and allowed be countersigned by the president and by the secretary and by two or more of the commission who may be present at that meeting.

The motion was unanimously adopted, and Mr. Collier was appointed a committee of one to present the resolutions to the board of supervisors for their information.

Mr. Williams, of the fruit committee, announced that there was three tons of dried peaches in the sweat boxes in Hobbs & Parsons place, and that the committee would sort them out, selecting the best and placing them in the basement of the Hughes block to allow them to sweat before being packed in air tight boxes.

Miss Nellie Boyd suggested that these dried peaches should be dipped into a syrup of sugar and water. Fruit that had been treated that way a year ago was now semi-transparent and of beautiful appearance. The proportions were one of sugar and two of water, the peaches to be dipped in the syrup when it was scalding hot, and the fruit afterwards laid on the sweat paper.

The secretary announced that George C. Roeding had contributed samples of 40 choice varieties of grapes. What she lacked was choice specimens of Muscats, Flame Tokays and Thompson's seedless.

Miss Boyd was in favor of purchasing additional jars sufficient to exhibit at least 100 variation of grapes grown in Fresno county. It would show what this county could do in the way of grape growing. No action was taken on this suggestion.

Miss Boyd suggested that an advertisement be inserted in the daily papers offering 15 cents per pound for the best Fresno raisins. It was necessary that the raisin exhibit should be of the best in order to gain a premium on them in the competitive exhibit.

Chairman John H. Harding urged the necessity of a world-beating display on Fresno raisins.

Miss Boyd moved that a standing advertisement be kept in the daily papers of the city offering a price of $15 per hundred for No. 1 layer raisins and $10 for No. 2.

Mr. Williams amended by making the price $25 for the best 50 pounds of cluster raisins. The amendment was carried unanimously.

Miss Boyd suggested the employment of an artist to arrange a unique design for the exhibit.

Mr. Williams approved of the idea. The design should be made at once, so that the articles for exhibition might be obtained to conform to the design.

Miss Boyd moved that an offer of $100 be made to the artists of this state for the best design for arranging the Fresno exhibit together with a scale diagram. There are plenty of artists in Chicago who could be engaged to arrange the exhibit according to the design. One of these artists receives $5000 per year and carriage hire for arranging the goods in the windows of one firm.

The motion was unanimously carried.

C. A. Lee, a mining expert from Zebra, addressed the commission on the subject of the mineral exhibit. He offered to get up a complete mineral exhibit for $1000 as a whole or at $2.50 per day and expenses. He made another offer that he would furnish the collection simply for his expenses to and from Chicago and during the continuance of the fair, and provided that he be allowed space near the exhibit for the sale of duplicate specimens of Fresno county ores, the proceeds of such sales and of the sale of the collection itself to be donated to him, and also all premiums that might be awarded to the mineral exhibit.

Mr. Williams suggested that the cabinet for the mineral exhibit and the shelving for the entire exhibit should be of Fresno county woods.

Miss Boyd suggested that the commission should prepare an illustrated pamphlet setting forth the advantages of the soil and climate and the wonderful fertility and variety of products of Fresno county. Immigration was what was wanted.

Secretary Stuart asked whether the donors of fruit, etc., would be designated by tickets or labels on the jars of fruit. People who contribute to the display would like to receive some benefit in the way of advertising.

Mr. Williams replied that each exhibitor's name would be printed on a neat label attached to his donation.

On motion of Secretary Stuart, Miss Boyd, J. M. Collier and Mrs. Stuart were appointed a committee to wait on the ladies' fair association and urge upon them the importance of assisting the commission in the exhibit by getting up some artistic features.

Chairman Harding spoke of the proposition to exhibit the display in the pavilion during the agricultural fair.

Mr. Williams thought that it would be a good plan to show the public what had been done already. It would be a good advertisement and would not cost anything as all the expenses would be borne by the directors of the agricultural district.

Mr. Fowler disapproved of handling or moving the fruit too much, or of exposing it to the light. If any exhibit should be made it should be made where the fruit was now stored and thus avoid the risk of injuring it in handling and removing it.

Miss Boyd opposed the moving of the fruit. There was no guarantee that the fruit would not be spoiled.

Mr. Collier's motion to exhibit the fruit at the fair grounds during the fair was amended by Mr. Fowler to the effect that no preliminary exhibit should be made until just prior to sending the fruit to Chicago. It would be better to wait until February, because the weather would then be cool and there would be no danger of the fruit being injured.

Mr. Williams drew attention to the fact that the only exhibit now ready was that of the farred fruit, and it would be better to wait until the entire exhibit was ready.

No action was taken and an adjournment was had until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock to take into consideration the special business of the mineral exhibit.

A DAMAGE SUIT

Brought Against the Fresno Flume and Irrigation Company.

In the superior court yesterday Newton Elder brought suit for damages in the sum of $5000 against the Fresno Flume and Irrigation company, better known as the Pine Ridge Flume company.

The plaintiff in his complaint alleges that he was employed by the company in the construction of the flume, he being under the direction and supervision of one Shaver, superintendent of the work.

On July 27th, while carrying lumber from a point on the flume to which it was being floated to a scaffolding near by, erected for the purpose of holding said lumber, the scaffold broke and plaintiff was precipitated to the ground below, some of the lumber falling upon him and seriously injuring his hip and spine.

Plaintiff says that the breaking of the scaffold was entirely due to the gross negligence and carelessness of the defendant, in permitting more lumber to be piled upon it than it was capable of holding, and that Shaver, the superintendent, was in a position to know this.

Elder alleges that he was utterly helpless for more than two weeks from the injuries he received, and believes his health has been permanently impaired by reason thereof, likewise his ability to earn a living for his family and himself. He therefore asks judgment for $5000 damages.

PROFITABLE VINES.

More Than $300 an Acre Realized From Malagas.

The owners of Malaga vineyards are doing well if they all do half as well as W. G. White and Miss Nellie Boyd.

Miss Boyd has just sold from one acre of her Malaga vines seventeen tons of green grapes at $20 per ton. There are about three tons yet on the vines. This is 340 for one acre's crop.

Mr. White, whose vineyard is south of this city, has sold from one and a quarter acres twenty-one tons of green grapes at $18 per ton, making a total of $378.

Toodles Then Art Not.

Toodles! Oh Toodles! Some say thou art gone to Dog Heaven,
Sent there this morning at half past seven.
While others say, I am sorry to tell,
That your mean little soul went straight down to —Yuma.

Toodles, that's the name of all that's left of Mr. Burns' dog. The circumstances of the sad affair are about as follows: It seems the doctor loaded his fine shotgun and put it in a cloth case and set it in a closet. A lad who lives with the doctor had nothing to this morning the rest of the family being on the coast, so he thought he would examine the shotgun. He took it out of the case and tried to break it to ascertain if it was loaded, but the spring not working satisfactorily the gun wouldn't open, so he concluded it was empty. A case of didn't know it was loaded occurred in Dr. Burns' dining room in a very few seconds thereafter. The lad cocked both barrels and imagined Toodles, who was standing across the room from him, to be a bear and snapped both hammers in rapid succession at the dog's left shoulder. Both barrels were loaded and both barrels fired. The sight that presented itself after the stifling smoke had settled beggars description. The lad was pale as a ghost and the cold perspiration stood out in great beads on his marble brow. He knew then just as well as anything that that pesky gun was loaded. His sire was good and Toodles' funeral will be tomorrow.—Selma Irrigator.

BOLD FOOTPADS.

An Attempt to Rob on the Street in Daylight.

Two strangers riding in a cart attempted to rob J. Burns at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, on P street between Merced and Fresno streets.

G. A. Smith was sitting in his front yard after dinner enjoying a soothing smoke, when he heard some one cry "Murder! Help! They are trying to rob me!"

He ran to the front gate and saw two men holding Burns and trying to get at his pockets. Burns broke away from the footpads and ran past Mr. Smith's gate, going in the direction of the sheriff's office, while the robbers jumped into their cart and tried to head Burns off. They did not succeed in this, and whipping up their horse drove rapidly in the direction of Chinatown. That was the last seen of them.

THREE MORE.

behind a fallen oak tree shooting at the balance of the posse.

Smith reached for his pistol and found it gone. It no doubt having fallen out when his horse was bucking.

The Indians were behind the rocks shooting at the outlaws, as was also Frank Burke.

Smith ran after his horse to get his shotgun and overtook

AL WITTY, WHO WAS SHOT IN THE NECK, and Warren Hill, who also were in pursuit of their horses to get guns.

Smith on recapturing his horse, found his gun gone, no doubt having been lost when the horse was running away. He borrowed a pistol from Hill, arriving about fifteen minutes after the first firing.

On entering the house it was found that Evans and Sontag had escaped through the cornfield, leaving about 200 rounds of ammunition and one shotgun belonging to Evans. Evans was the man who shot McGinnis with a shotgun, both barrels hitting him in the head and stomach.

SONTAG SHOT WILSON.

The shotgun charges were No. 1 wire cartridges.

An Englishman paid a visit to Young's this morning and found Evans and Sontag there. They immediately made him their prisoner and told him to get breakfast as they were tired and had had no sleep for three nights, as the officers were pressing them hard. They also wished to know where the posse were.

This morning they sent the Englishman for a bucket of water and had him covered with guns, and when he saw the posse he did not dare to give a signal, and the posse walked into the death trap.

The Indians were on foot and nearly tired out, and Will Smith was with them encouraging them along.

When the firing commenced the members of the posse say he was the first to the front.

He will devote his time to

RUNNING EVANS AND SONTAG DOWN.

There were eight in the posse—Warren Hill, Al Witty, Frank Burke, Vic Wilson, McGinnis, Will Smith and the Indians.

The Indians are of the Yuma tribe, and two of the best in the territory.

The other day while in Hanford the posse camped in a corral and some old man dropped in and told them they had better return or they would be killed.

They answered "All right. There are plenty more Yuma Indians and you get out of here." The old man left in a hurry.

POOR VIC WILSON.

He looks as natural as life, and he was a handsome man.

The first message stated that Smith was killed and a great many expressed their sorrow, for the feeling is changed, and they want to see him have a chance at Evans or Sontag.

McGinnis was formerly a deputy sheriff in Stanislaus county and volunteered his services in this work.

Vic Wilson was a native of Texas, aged about 34, and came from Arizona in company with Burke.

Will Smith, who has known him for several years, speaks highly of his bravery. Wilson died with his gun in his hand.

McGinnis' gun shows that he TOOK ONE SHOT AT THE OUTLAWS.

Burke thinks he hit Evans, for the latter stumbled and dropped his shotgun, which is now in possession of the officers.

Wilson leaves a wife and child in Tucson.

Witty has only one bird shot in the right side of his neck and is ready to go again.

The posse was in charge of Wilson, and by some oversight tracks leading to the house were not looked for, presumedly not looking for outlaws at Young's house.

The posse had been there three days before.

Ten minutes before the posse arrived in view of the house the boys held a consultation and concluded that Coffee's was the place to find Evans and Sontag.

The shooting happened at 11.10 in the morning. They had to pack the bodies two miles on horseback down a trail to Gardiner's. There they got a team and an old wagon and drove four miles to Baker's, and got a good team and wagon, and arrived here at 11 p.m.

Andrew W. McGinnis is of Modesto, and was formerly deputy sheriff of Stanislaus county, but of late was representing a cigar factory in San Francisco.

HE RECEIVED THE FULL CHARGE

under the left ear, and thirty-four buckshot were extracted from his body.

Wilson looks as natural as life and he was thoroughly peppered, 125 shot being taken from his body. Both men were fine specimens of manhood.

Olsen, who was killed, is a mountaineer, and his remains were left in the hills.

Sheriffs Kay and Hensley have not arrived.

The next posse will be all picked men, tried and true, and they will have the prayers of this community.

A SANGER REPORT

Of the Terrible Tripple Tragedy in the Mountains.

SANGER, September 13.—For more than a week Evans and Sontag have been staying in the neighborhood of Sampson Flat, a thickly wooded and rough country, where they could secret themselves to a certain extent.

They wandered around in a rodius of a few miles and were repeatedly seen by parties knowing them.

Having learned of the whereabouts Detective Will Smith and a party of six white men and two Indian trailers, who had been brought from Yuma for the purpose of tracking the robbers, had been in that part of the country for several days.

The posse was on its way to Sampson Flat and had gotten within about two miles of that locality when they stopped at the cabin of a man named John Young. They stopped there to cook some provisions, not expecting to meet the train robbers in that immediate vicinity.

The posse was going down a narrow trail which turned in plain view of any one who might happen to be in the cabin.

They were proceeding leisurely in Indian file, Vic D. Wilson, deputy United States marshal of Tucson, leading, with Frank Burke, a deputy sheriff of Yuma, next. Deputy McGinnis next, then came Warren Hill, one of Sanger's constables, who was leading a pack animal.

They arrived at Young's cabin, and Wilson and Burke, who had gone within the house, were within ten feet of the front door when the door was suddenly thrown open and Evans and Sontag came out as quick as a flash and opened a regular fusilade of shots on the party.

Wilson and Burke, before they could turn round or reach their arms, were killed in their tracks.

At the time the shots were fired at Wilson and Burke, Warren Hill was tieing his horse and the pack animal to a fence. McGinnis was standing alongside of Warren Hill.

As soon as Wilson and Burke had fallen the murderers turned their attention to the rest of the party and rapidly fired numerous shots at them.

One rifle shot passed through Witty's neck, inflicting an ugly though not dangerous wound.

McGinnis was shot and dropped dead by Hill's side.

A charge of buckshot was fired at Warren Hill, but he happened to be standing behind his horse and was not hurt, the horse receiving the entire charge.

The party was taken completely by surprise and did not have time to return the fire.

The two Indian trailers, however, discharged their weapons at the robbers, but it is not known with what effect.

The horses of the posse stampeded in the tumult and the remainder of the posse dispersed.

Evans and Sontag then immediately turned and went through the house, out at a back door and escaped, going in a northeasterly direction, and that was the last seen of them.

Will Smith and an Indian trailer stayed with the wounded men, and Hill started after one of the frightened horses and succeeded in capturing them.

He then carried the news of the disaster to the Sequoia mills of the Kings River Lumber company and transmitted it to the Associated Press correspondent.

Hill says they were going down then to lie in wait for the robbers tonight.

In talking with Hill this evening he informed the correspondent that he thought it likely that the robbers would attempt to escape by coming down the lumber flume on rafts, and that they would probably stop all communication for the time by cutting the telephone wires.

Sheriff Kay had been out with a posse and came away sick and had just arrived at Sanger when he learned of the disaster.

Parties are being formed in all the small towns of the foothills tonight and a large body of men will in the next few days give the murderers a hard chase.

It is now thought that the possibility of the robbers escaping is very remote, their camping outfit having been captured and it being assured that their ammunition is not very plentiful.

An intimate friend of Chris Evans told one of the herders on the flume that he had seen Evans a day or two ago, and that Evans told him they were going to leave the country in a little while, but not before they had another crack at the Southern Pacific. The same man stated that friends of the robbers were very numerous in that part of the country, and that they seemed devoted to them and they would supply them with bedding, food and ammunition.

Warrents have been issued for the arrest of certain parties believed to have afforded protection to the robbers, and it is thought that this will have a favorable result.

Probably Not Them.

MERCED, September 13.—A special to the Evening Sun from Montpelier, a town on the Oakdale branch of the Southern Pacific road, states that Evans and Sontag were at Joe Long's ranch, eight miles east of there, Sunday night. The outlaws asked for water and inquired the road to Snelling, Merced county. One of Long's teamsters said he was acquainted with them and he was within thirty feet of them. They were in a cart.

FOR CONTEMPT.

A Sheriff Jailed for Presuming Too Much Knowledge.

SAN FRANCISCO September 13.—Judge Murphy today found Sheriff Laumeister guilty of contempt of court for refusing to execute the murderer John McNulty, and sentenced him to twenty-four hours imprisonment in the county jail. McNulty was found guilty of the murder of Thomas Collins, whom he shot over four years ago, and was sentenced to be hanged August 19th last. Governor Markham, however, granted a reprieve of fifteen days in order that an application for a new trial might be filed. A new trial was refused, but the sheriff at the expiration of the reprieve refused to proceed with the execution without a new order from the court. An order was issued fixing the date of the execution for October 14th.

Judge Murphy holds that the first order fixing the execution for August 19th still held good after the reprieve expired, and accordingly found the sheriff guilty of contempt for not obeying it.

Caminetti Explains.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 13.—At the monthly meeting of the state board of trade today Eugene Gregory of Sacramento presided. Among those present were Mayor Cole of Fresno, Tyler Beach of San Jose, L. C. McAffee of Bakersfield and others. Congressman Caminetti refuted the charge that he, in favoring certain legislation, had been endeavoring to transfer the control of our navigable rivers from the federal government to the state government. He spoke of the proposed hydraulic mining bill, and said its provisions would have permitted the resumption of hydraulic mining with perfect safety to the agricultural interests, and California would have obtained a desired law, to be carried out by a government commission, had not certain resolutions adopted by the Sacramento convention been sent to Washington.

A Bank in Trouble.

LONDON, September 13.—As early as 5 o'clock this morning people were waiting in the street for the Birkbeck bank, on which the run occurred yesterday, to open its doors. The bank sold £50,000 of consols yesterday at 95⅝, which depressed government bonds, the bank reaping rich hauls from the crowd in the street, one man yesterday being relieved of £1100.

Murder Rampant.

CADDO, I.T., September 13.—Seven men are reported to have been murdered since yesterday morning in the Choctaw nation. Governor Jones, who is here, has summoned Indian Agent Bennett, Agent Wright, Lieutenant Governor Bryant and a number of prominent Indians. He has dispatched an armed force to the seat of trouble and keeps a heavy guard around himself all the time.

Tariff on Tin.

ELWOOD, Ind., September 13.—A heavy rain seriously interfered with the Republican turnout planned for today on the opening of the American tin plate factory in this city. Governor McKinley's speech this afternoon was devoted almost entirely to a vindication of the Republican tariff legislation on tin.

A Heavy Loss.

MODESTO, September 13.—A large warehouse at the site of the joint irrigation dam near Lagrange, was destroyed by fire yesterday. There were 3200 barrels stored and will probably all be destroyed. Loss about $14,000. The Modesto irrigation district property was insured for $6000, while the Turlock district was not insured. The building cost $800. The cause of the fire is unknown.

A NEW TIN PLANT

Dedicated in Indiana Yesterday

WITH IMPOSING CEREMONIES

Governor McKinley the Chief of Ceremonies—He Makes a Tariff Speech.

ELWOOD, Ind., September 13.—The American tin plate factory of Elwood was formally dedicated as an American industry today, and William McKinley Jr. officiated at the ceremonies.

Some 5000 enthusiastic spectators were present, the small attendance being due to a heavy rain which fell continuously all day.

It was not until the 12.30 train, bearing Governor McKinley, Governor Chase of Indiana and others, reached the city.

Elaborate arrangements had been made for speaking in a grove, but the weather prevented this and Governor McKinley made the principal address from the opera house stage.

Several hundred people were standing in the rain outside, unable to gain admission.

Governor McKinley addressed a few words from the balcony. Governor Chase of Indiana was also introduced and spoke briefly.

Governor McKinley in his speech said the issues which were commanding the most attention and which was most upon the minds of the people is the question of the tariff. (Applause.) There were two kinds of tariff, a protective tariff and a tariff for revenue only. Either a protective tariff or a revenue tariff will provide the money requisite for public purposes, but a revenue tariff will do nothing else but raise the revenue.

State Fair Races.

SACRAMENTO, September 13.—The first race today was for the 3-year-olds, (trotting.) Adelaide McGregor won in straight heats, Peka second each heat, Antioch third. Time 2.20½, 2.21½, 2.22.

In the second race for 2-year-olds, (pacers) Madcap and Octoroon were the only starters. The latter being lame, was distanced, and Madcap jogged over the course in 3.17.

The third race for the 2.27 class had three starters, Thornwood, Dell Rey and Lou Wilkes. The first heat Dell Rey won in 2.27½, Thornwood second. Second heat Thornwood won in 2.24. Dell Rey second. Third heat Lou Wilkes won in 2.30½, Thornwood second. The fourth and fifth heats Thornwood won in 2.25½, 2.22¾. Wilkes was distanced in the last heat.

Fourth race for 2.25 trotters had nine starters. Five heats were trotted when it was postponed on account of darkness. Maggie won two heats, Don Marvin two and Emin Bey one. Best time 2.22½; slowest 2.24.

An Interesting Case.

BUFFALO, September 13.—A decision in the Monroe county apportionment cases, which was argued at the extraordinary session of the general term, was handed down today. The opinion is by Judge Ramsey of the supreme court, which declared the reapportionment unconstitutional, is affirmed. Justice Macomber wrote a lengthy dissenting opinion. The case is now ready for the court of appeals. It is thought that Chief Justice Earl will convene an extraordinary term to deal with the matter, as the validity of the approaching state elections hangs entirely upon the decision of the court of appeals.

A Brave Boy.

TACOMA, September 13.—An unknown tramp was killed at South Prairie last night by Wiley Combest, a 10-year old boy, employed as a hop picker. Combest refused to allow three tramps to enter the barn where he slept, whereupon they began to abuse him. He pulled a revolver and shot one dead, the others running away. The boy then surrendered himself to the authorities.

Tekoa Scorched.

TEKOA, Wash., September 13.—Tekoa was visited by a disastrous fire this morning, which laid the business portion of the town in ruins. The fire originated in an old barn in the rear of Snyder & Davidson's plumbing establishment, and before it could be checked destroyed nine business blocks.

Went Ashore.

SANTA BARBARA, September 13.—The British ship Golden Horn went ashore off the south end of Santa Rosa island at 8 o'clock last night. She had a crew of twenty-eight, but no lives were lost. The vessel will probably be a complete wreck. She was seventy-two days out from Newcastle, N.S.W., with a cargo of coal for San Pedro.

Street Railway Accident.

ST LOUIS, September 13.—By a street railway accident this morning two people were killed and thirteen more were injured. The accident was occasioned by the conductor losing control of the electric car at State and Sydney streets on a branch of the Union depot line.

Wants a Divorce.

NICE, September 13.—The trial of the action for divorce, brought by Edward Parker Deacon against his wife, because of her relations with M'Abeille, for the killing of whom Deacon is now imprisoned here, has been postponed. The trial is fixed for September 23d, but will not come off for full three weeks later.

A Great Victory.

AUGUSTA, Me, September 13.—The Republican plurality is now estimated at 10,000. It was an election under the Australian ballot system and appeared to be satisfactory except that it delays the count. Millican and Bot lle are undoubtedly elected in the third and fourth districts.

For Governor.

HARTFORD, September 13.—The Democratic state convention today nominated Judge Morris for governor by acclamation. Ernest Cady was nominated for lieutenant governor.

A Gerrymander Foiled.

BUFFALO, September 13.—The opinion of Judge Rawson of the supreme court declaring the reapportionment in Monroe county unconstitutional was today affirmed, Justice McComb dissenting.

Frost in the Northwest.

WASHINGTON, September 13.—Frosts are reported in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Nebraska last night.

Death of an Admiral.

HARMS' TRIAL

For Selling Liquor Without a License—The Jury.

The trial of L. J. Harms, proprietor of the Fountain saloon, charged with selling liquor without a license, came up before Recorder Laning yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. City Attorney Reel B. Terry represented the prosecution and J. P. Mans and W. D. Grady the defendant.

The entire afternoon was spent in the work of getting a jury and when an adjournment was taken only three had been obtained—Maurice Korphure, J. H. House and Harry Barton. More than twelve were examined.

City Attorney Terry challenged one juror on the ground that he did not live in this city and could not, therefore, sit in a case in which the violation of a city ordinance was the charge. Recorder Laning sustained this view, to which defendants attorney excepted.

The case will be resumed this morning at 9.30 o'clock.

Steve Hamilton Arrested.

D. H. Cadwallador swore to a complaint in Justice Crichton's court yesterday charging Steve Hamilton with threatening to kill him. The complainant is Hamilton's stepson and does not get on amicably with Hamilton. Hamilton has been having a good deal of domestic trouble of late and blames his stepson for it. He acknowledged having threatened to kill Cadwallader when arrested, and was put under $500 bond. Hamilton is well known in the county, having held responsible positions. He was foreman of the grand jury that failed to do so much a year ago.

Suit for Debt.

B. H. Boran brought suit in the superior court yesterday against S. D. McIntire to recover $2192, alleged to be due him for board and money furnished by him to Cassandra Boran. S. D. McIntire is administrator of the estate of Cassandra Boran and plaintiff alleges he refuses to pay his claim.
